Sterling, Kansas

IS located in Rice County, near the center of the State, in the Arkansas Valley, on Santa Fe main line and Missouri Pacific railroads. On the Santa Fe, Nebraska-Kansas-Oklahoma, and other trails, with paved road of twenty-five miles leading from Hutchinson. Was surveyed in January 1872. Chartered as third class city and name changed from Peace to Sterling in 1875; now a city of the second class. Cooper Memorial (now Sterling) College opened to students in the fall of 1887.

Its advantages—An excellent Municipal Water and Light Plant, modern 650-barrel Flour Mill, 30-ton Salt Plant, 12-ton Ice Plant, 1000-gallon Ice Cream Factory; three Banks with a combined capital of $235,000, and deposits aggregating $800,000; Swimming Pool 40x80 feet; 20-Bed Hospital; Shade Trees and Parks; an altitude of 1635 feet; nearly one and one-half miles of Paved Streets and White Way; a Sanitary Sewer System under construction; a rich Agricultural Country surrounding it; excellent Public Schools with a high school accredited in the North-Central Association; Sterling College with one-third million assets; a Free Public Library; sufficient, active Protestant Church Organizations to care for all; a high moral and religious atmosphere; no public pool hall for over thirty years.

A good place to live, to rear and to educate a family.
